HARRISON AND MORTON

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION ENDS ITS LABORS.

Indiana and New York the Homes of the Candidates, and the States

Which are to be the Main Battlefields of the Campaign—A Ticket That is Sure

To Bury the Democratic Party in November—Porter Nominated on the First Ballot

CHICAGO, June 25.—At three minutes past 11 o'clock the convention was called to order by Chairman Estee who was again in good condition. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago.

Mr. Houston, of Virginia, arose and said he desired to offer a resolution regulating the order of balloting in the convention which would prohibit the casting of any vote for any candidate who had not been regularly put in nomination before the convention. The chair ruled that this could not be done as nothing was in order except balloting.

Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, arose to the action of privilege. Mr. Haymond, of California, made the point of order that nothing was in order except balloting. If there were any speeches to be made he wanted to make one for Blaine. [Applause.]

The chair said that he understood that the gentleman from Maine desired to make a privileged announcement and he was given the floor.

He mounted the platform and said: "I find myself somewhat embarrassed in being thrown even into a semblance of antagonism to the representative of the delegation from the Pacific coast who have come here manifesting such a devotion to a chief whose banner I have followed with pride and affection these many years. [Applause.] I would like, were the occasion appropriate and did I feel it proper in view of the courtesy to which I am indebted for an appearance here at all, to preface the announcement I am about to make by some explanatory remarks. I shall not attempt to do so. No one in this convention, no one in this magnificent auditorium has any doubt as to where the affection, the devotion and the allegiance of the Republicans of Maine has been and always will be. [Applause.] No delegate here will doubt the regret with which I discharge the duty imposed upon me, but, Mr. president and gentlemen of the convention, I am under a constraint which I do not feel at liberty to ignore, and without attempting to give constructions or interpretations of my own to the language of one greater than myself, by far, I discharge my humble duty as the representative of the Maine delegation by reading to you without preface or comment the following dispatches which I have received."

BOUTELLE AND MANLY, CHICAGO, Ill.
Earnestly request all friends to respect my Paris letter. (Signed) J. S. G. BLAINE.

"That dispatch was received last night," explained Boutelle. "This morning I received the following:

"At this point the galleries broke out into an uproar which was, however, promptly checked by the chairman who warned the audience that unless it preserved better order strict measures to enforce it would be resorted to."

"The result of the meeting said:

"I read to the convention for its information as I have received them these dispatches."

"The second was dated today and said: 'I think I have the right to ask my friends to respect my wishes and refrain from voting for me. Please make this and former dispatches public. (Signed) J. S. G. BLAINE.'

After the applause and confusion which followed Boutelle's announcement had died away the convention proceeded to the sixth ballot. Little excitement was occasioned by the roll call outside of the usual murmurs of applause when California again cast her vote for Blaine, till the vote was called, and Governor Foraker announced 46 votes for Sherman.

Then a delegate arose and challenged the correctness of the announcement. The chair demanded the name of the delegate and there being a delay occasioned by the efforts of Governor Foraker and others of the delegation to persuade the colleague to withdraw the challenge, Gresham stated that unless the name was given the announcement would stand. J. B. Luckey arose and announced his name and insisted upon the roll.

The result of the poll was 45 votes for Sherman and 1 vote for Harrison, which was cast by Mr. Luckey himself. The result of the ballot was as follows:

WHIPPED TO DEATH.

A WEALTHY MISSOURI FARMER PLAYED ALIVE.

Charged With Divulging the Secrets of the Agricultural Wheel Organization.

A United States Stage Held Up in Idaho—A Single Man Robs a Stage Load

Of Travelers Near Ballinger, Tex.—A Double Tragedy—A Mixed Duel—A Prince Robbed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 25.—A telegram from Pulaski county, Mo., says a bold outrage was committed there Saturday night by an organized band, similar to the White Caps of Indiana. About midnight a party of masked riders rode up to the house of Charles Gross, a wealthy farmer, and dragging him from his house, carried him a mile away and there whipped him to death. He was charged with divulging secrets of the Agricultural Wheel, a secret organization. Gross was played alive.

STAGE ROBBERIES.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, June 25.—The stage of Salisbury & Co., carrying the United States mail and express, was held up between here and Chambliss by masked highwaymen Saturday. Besides rifling the mail pouch, silver bullion worth $2,500 was taken.

BALLINGER, Tex., June 25.—The Ballinger and San Angela stage was again robbed yesterday by a lone highwayman. This time the robber was on foot, going toward San Angela. He had a large red bandana around his neck, and when the stage pulled up he pulled the bandana over the lower part of his face and with a six-shooter persuaded the passengers, eight in number, to stand and deliver. After taking about $3,000 from the passengers, all of whom were unarmed, he compelled the driver to unhitch the best horse and turn the same over to him. The driver was compelled to catch a mule to supply his loss. This was not the same highwayman that had operated in this section before.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 25.—A double tragedy occurred here this evening at 6 o'clock. Henry Baker is a farmer 44 years old living north of this city. He has a young and pretty daughter to whom George Long, a farmer in that vicinity has been paying his addresses, and the old man was seriously objected to the attachment. Last evening Albert, the young woman's brother, met Long and insisted that he should cease calling upon his sister. The two finally had a fight with no particular damage to either.

Young Baker went home and told his father of the encounter, whereupon the latter that he immediately hunted up Long.

The two met on the highway. From each side came blows and from blows to pistols. Baker disarmed Long, shot him, and when the latter fell started away from the scene. Long staggered up, seized the pistol and shot Baker through the heart, killing him instantly. Long was dying at midnight.

A MIXED DUEL.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 25.—Melville A. Miles, a young white man, and a negro, Wash Harrison, fought with pistols yesterday near Richmond, Ala., and both were killed. They were living on the plantation of A. T. Jones, Miles as overseer, and the negro as a laborer. The negro had been ordered to leave the place, but refused to do so and when Miles went with Jones to the negro's house he fired in them. Miles was shot and died in fifteen minutes. Harrison was also shot fatally and died in a few hours.

A PRINCE'S JEWELRY STOLEN.

LONDON, June 25.—A thief entered the crown prince of Sweden's apartments in the hotel at Fremdenbad on Saturday night and secured jewelry worth $100,000, with which he escaped.

DEMOCRATS TO A T.

Efforts Being Made in the House to Kill the Portland, Ore., Public Building Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Democratic statesmen in the house yesterday endeavored to rebuke Oregon for her tenacity in recently returning so large a Republican majority. It was only for lack of a quorum that the effort failed. Some time ago a bill was introduced in the senate authorizing the construction of a new public building at Portland, Ore. It passed the senate and came to the house and was referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds. Unfortunately for Portland's proposed new public building about this time the Oregon senate disappointed the high hopes of Democracy by going overwhelmingly Republican. The Democratic committee of the house at once generously and unselfishly took cognizance of the fact. It wouldn't do to report the bill unfavorably, that would be too palpable as the senate had passed it unanimously. So they merely took cognizance of the fact. It wouldn't do to report the bill unfavorably, that would be too palpable as the senate had passed it unanimously. So they merely took cognizance of the fact. It wouldn't do to report the bill unfavorably, that would be too palpable as the senate had passed it unanimously. So they merely took cognizance of the fact.

When the bill came up in the house yesterday for consideration Mr. Holman, of Indiana, and Mr. Lane, of Illinois, offered amendments still further cutting down the amount. Mr. Holman wanted to make it $500,000 and Mr. Lane wanted to reduce it to $200,000. Several other more or less able Democrats "chipped in" and offered various suggestions as to the proper amount. All of them wanted to reduce it and some thought no appropriation at all was needed. A vote was called on one of the amendments and a Republican member demanded a quorum. A roll call showed that no quorum was present and after repeated efforts to get a quorum the wrangle was ended by an adjournment. It is evident that Oregon has offended the Democracy of the house, and Portland, as her leading city, is expected, must suffer for it by doing without a new public building.
